Waveland board sinks plans to construct marina -- at present

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

Allie Kramer's neighbor will still be able to take her boat to the Garfield-Ladner pier and watch the sun go down and the stars come out in the same quiet, peaceful atmosphere that she has enjoyed for years. Her grandchildren will still be able to enjoy fishing and swimming at the beach between Coleman Avenue and Terrace, at least until December 2002, because of a bold move made by the Waveland Board of Aldermen Tuesday night.

In a motion made by Milton Bernard and seconded by Louie Smolensky, aldermen unanimously tabled any further discussion of the proposed marina project for the duration of their terms.

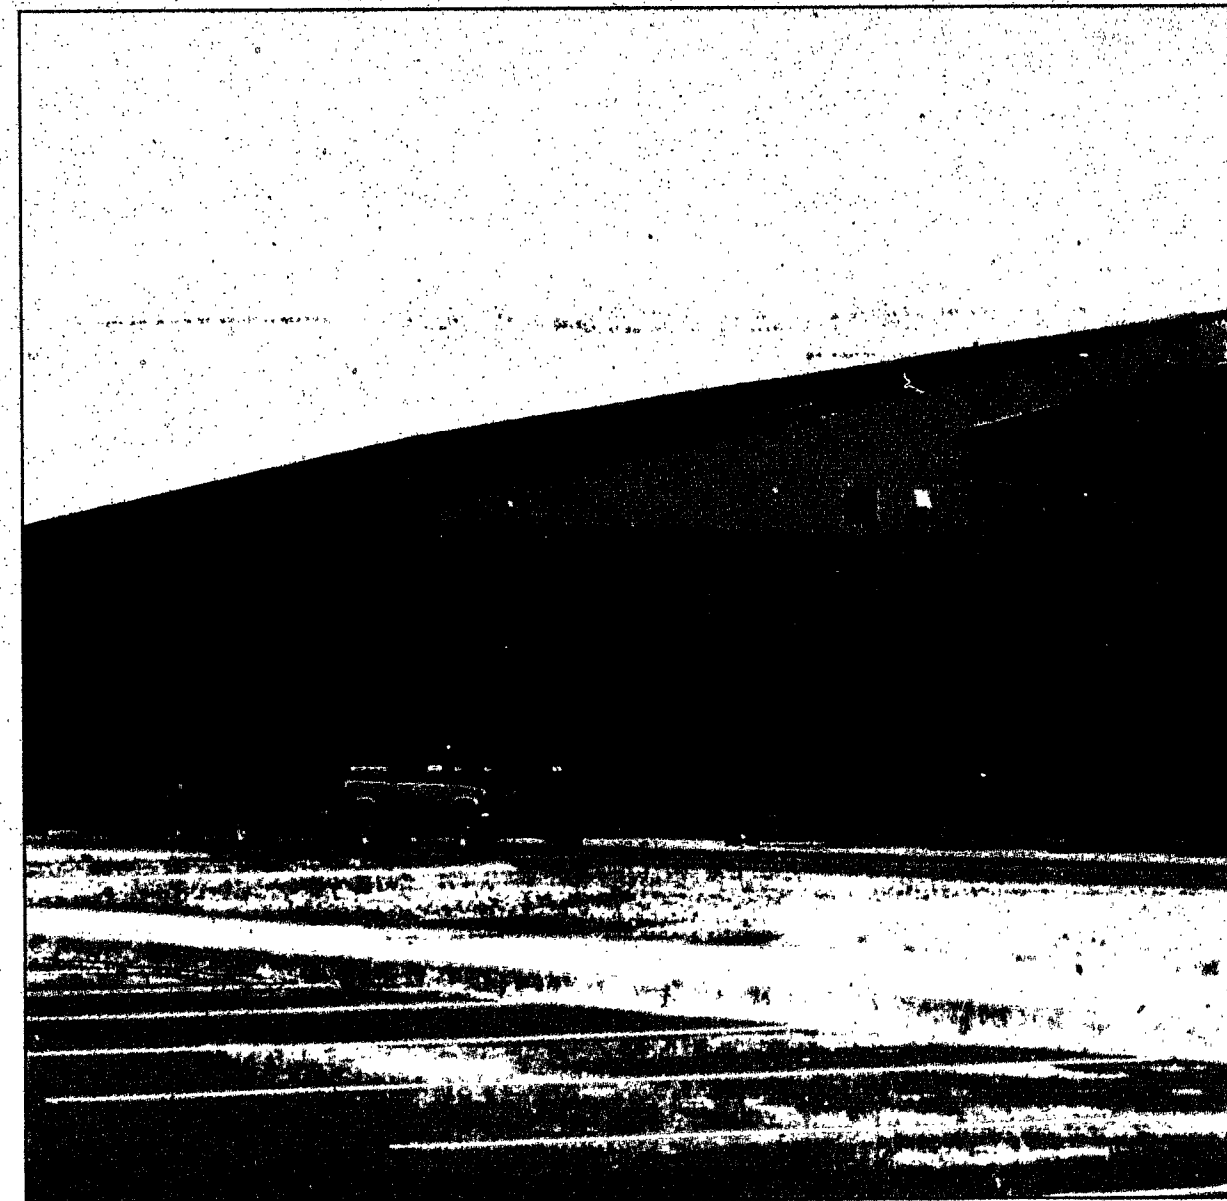

In the surprise move, the board first voted against appropriating $9,350 for a feasibility study by Compton Ferry LLC to determine whether the project could support itself.

Mayor Tommy Longo said that based on the fact that four administrations had worked on the project for 20 years, he would exercise his power of veto on the board's decision. In another bold move, Milton

A few more details need to be taken care of, school officials say, but the mammoth new Hancock Middle School is expected to open for students on Aug. 21. The school was designed for a maximum of 1,500 students. More than 1,100 are expected for the 2000-2001 school year.

Ladner, board debate pay-raises for bus drivers, coaches, school nurses

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

Eyebrows and voices were raised Tuesday night at the Hancock County Board of Education meeting when it appeared that some lower-end employee salaries wouldn't be.

A capacity crowd was on hand Tuesday as the board considered a near-record 73-item agenda in preparation for the 2000-2001 school year, which begins Aug. 21.

The controversy began when board members initially balked at Superintendent of Education Mike Ladner's recommendation to approve new salary scales for registered school nurses, cafeteria workers and managers and bus drivers; and at Ladner's recommendation to boost the salary supplement scale for members of the athletic extracurricular department.

"I just don't want to give raises until we can get everybody ...," board member Lynette Necaise said Tuesday. "I know they're deserving, but what scares me is the unknown expenses. ... I'd like to pay everybody in the district more than (they currently make), but as a conservative, I just don't feel like we can do this right now."

Board member Tony Caston said the district was facing "The Big Unknown," the additional cost of two new schools, which he said can often run over budget since it's difficult to predict the actual costs of a new facility such as energy and other expenses until the facility has been in use for a complete school year.

"I'm worried about our bus drivers and our cafeteria workers," Ladner told the board. "I've targeted people (for raises) who are at the low end of the scale: bus drivers, cafeteria workers and nurses. ... The money is there, people. I saved $70,000 by

Some people living near Julie Rosson's new Sundance subdivision at Waveland feel the roadway will be inadequate for traffic flow.

Residents feel subdivision won't be good neighbor

Attorney says nay-sayers are a little too late

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

Waveland city attorney Ronnie Artigues said Monday that it is a little late for people to get concerned over Julie Rosson's Sundance Subdivision, now that 98% of the groundwork for the neighborhood is complete.

Artigues said that notices were mailed to all area residents advising them of the plans more than a year ago.

"Notices were duly sent, everything was done properly, with proper notice ... we decided on a plan and approved it ... where all these people were, I don't know ... but if you want to try to change things now, you had better be ready for a fight," said Artigues.

The people he was referring to were the standing-room-only crowd at Monday night's workshop, many of whom insisted that they had never been notified of the proposed construction. Ward 4 Alderman Charles Piazza said that according to record, the notices were mailed on May 5, 1999.

Area residents expressed their concern about three main issues: increased traffic, low water pressure and drainage.

Rosson originally wanted to have only one way in and out of the subdivision, to make it a gated closed community, but the planning and zoning board insisted that she have another entrance/exit for safety. That

Weidman resigns as Pass Parks, Recreation director

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer

Without any public bickering, the Pass Christian Board of Aldermen Tuesday night voted to accept the resignation of Parks and Recreation Director Stan Weidman.

Weidman was appointed to head the city's youth athletic programs by Mayor Billy McDonald in April of 1997 to replace another embattled director, who resigned after complaints by a number of parents.

Weidman

men, led by Ward 2 Aldermen Margaret Jean Kalif, asked for Weidman to resign after McDonald rejected her request to hold an administrative hearing with parents present to hear their complaints about the sports programs available for Pass Christian youth.

But McDonald ruled Kalif's motion was out of order, and threatened to veto Weidman's termination, saying Weidman was doing a good job.

At Tuesday night's meeting,

REV. ARTHUR C.
WINTERS, SVD

Arthur Cornelius Winters, S.V.D., was the fifth son in a family of seven sons, born to James and Maud Robinson Winters. He was born on December 2, 1916, in Atlantic City, New Jersey. His schooling, prior to entering the Society of the Divine Word community was varied. Father Winters attended Public School No. 2 in Pleasantville, New Jersey, from 1919 until 1928. He was enrolled in St. Peter's Catholic School for one year (1928-1929) and then went on to complete high school in 1933 at Holy Spirit.

Father Winters arrived in Bay St. Louis at St. Augustine's Seminary in September 1934 to begin his studies. He entered the Novitiate on June 20, 1937, at Holy Ghost in East Troy, Wisconsin. His First Vows were taken in Techny, Illinois, on June 21, 1939. His Perpetual Vows were professed at St. Augustine's, Bay St. Louis, on June 9, 1944, and his Ordination was celebrated by Bishop Gerow on January 6, 1945, also at St. Augustine's.

The First Mass celebration on the following day, which happened to be the Feast of the Holy Family, had the character of a "real family feast." Father Winters' mother and one brother, who traveled from their home in Pleasantville, New Jersey, and another brother, who was a soldier, were in attendance. The uniqueness of this Mass was accentuated by the fact that Mrs. Winters was able to experience four of her sons at the altar. Father Winters' brother, Father Richard Winters, S.V.D. was ordained about four years before and assisted Father Arthur during his First Mass, while the other two sons were his Altar Servers. What a unique moment in the history of the Society of the Divine Word. This was significant because two young African-American brothers were now ordained to the priesthood. This touching scene of family participation gave a renewed richness to the Feast of the Holy Family.

After Ordination, Father Winters enjoyed short-lived assignments as Assistant Pastor at Immaculate Heart of Mary, Lafayette, and subsequently to Notre Dame, St. Martinville. These assignments were brief, because before too long Fr. Winters was requested to return to the Bay.

His versatile talents as a teacher, a poet, a musician, a sportsman and a genial community man demanded his presence at St. Augustine's Seminary. His talent for writing poetry has been recognized by the Catholic Poetry Society of America. He is cited for such in "Negro Catholic Writers" by Sister Mary Anthony Scall, R.C.M. He has numerous poems and stories in the St. Augustine Messenger. He was the author of "Children's Corner" in the St. Augustine Messenger and signed his works with the original signature of Father "Acorn" (Arthur Cornelius).

In October of 1948, Father Winters became the editor of the St. Augustine Messenger and maintained this assignment until he became the assistant pastor of Immaculate Heart of Mary, Lafayette in 1949. In 1952, he was named assistant pastor of Notre Dame, St. Martinville. He returned to St. Augustine's, Bay St. Louis, in 1954 to teach and serve as Director of Music in the minor and major seminary until his assignment back to Notre Dame, St. Martinville, in 1962, as pastor.

The parish of Immaculate Heart of Mary, Lafayette, became his home as its pastor from 1966 through 1970. In 1970, and until 1978, he was assigned as pastor to St. Joseph's, Meridian, Miss. Father Winters assumed the role of pastor to St. Francis in Yazoo City, Miss., in 1978. In 1993, Father Winters returned once again to St. Augustine's in Bay St. Louis to begin his "retirement assignment."

In his retirement, he served the community with music in their daily Liturgy of the Hours and the Celebration of the Eucharist. Father also held a position on the House Council at St. Augustine's for three years.

He gave further service to the Catholic Community of St. Ann's Church in Clermont Harbor as their music director and organist. When the pastor was unavailable he also celebrated the Masses at St. Ann's.

Father Winters celebrated his 25th anniversary as an S.V.D. Missionary priest on January 6, 1970. His Golden Jubilee was celebrated on January, 1995. This momentous occasion was shared with and attended by his brother, Fr. Richard Winters, who celebrated his 54th anniversary as an S.V.D. Missionary priest on the same day. Father Arthur also celebrated 60 years in vows as a religious in 1999.

He had unique talents as a musician, writer and teacher at St. Augustine Seminary, and at the many parishes he ministered in over the years. Father wrote poetry and music throughout his lifetime.

Father's health started to deteriorate July 12 when he became ill and was found in his room at Saint Augustine's. He was treated in the hospital for nine days and transferred to a nearby care facility for ongoing care.

Last Thursday, Father Arthur was re-admitted to Hancock Medical Center in Bay St. Louis for a surgical procedure. After the surgery, Father's health became worse and God called him to his eternal reward on July 28, 2000. May God reward him for his life of goodness and love to the people of God.

Visitation was Tuesday at St. Augustine Seminary Chapel in Bay St. Louis. Services were conducted Wednesday in the chapel with burial in the seminary cemetery. Hartwell's Christian Mortuary in Gulfport was in charge arrangements.

Pearl River accredited in physical therapy

The Physical Therapy Assistant Program at Pearl River Community College in Hattiesburg has been granted accreditation status by the Commission on Accreditation in Physical Therapy Education for a period of eight years.

The Commission based its decision on a Self-Study Report, Report of the On-Site Evaluation Team which was conducted October 18-20, 1999, response to the report of the On-Site Evaluation Team, and additional material submitted by the college.

The Commission stated in their accreditation report that they, "...commend the program faculty and institutional staff who participated in the development and submission of a well written Self-Study Report.

The collaboration and supportive approach to accreditation resulted in an educational program for which no criteria were found to be out of compliance."

"I can not tell you how excited I was to receive the cover letter and 'Summary of Action' statement from the Commission on Accreditation in Physical Therapy Education. We have an outstanding program here and this accreditation is another way of showing it," said Patti Crowson, PRCC PTA department chair.

The program will go through the accreditation process again in 2007.

Hancock to showcase educational software

On Friday, Aug. 4 at 10 a.m. at East Hancock Elementary, the Hancock County School District's Food Service Department will present the following software to Frances Weiler, Hancock curriculum coordinator:

"Let's go Read An Island Adventure," "Millie and Bailey Kindergarten," and "Travel the World with Timmy."

This series of software, compliments of Edmark Educational Software and the Mississippi Department of Education's Division of Purchasing and Food distribution, will be demonstrated by district faculty and students.

Highlights about each software title are:

• Let's Go Read An Island Adventure provides a friendly and supportive environment for beginning readers. Students apply the skills learned in the activities as they read a wide variety of engaging and beautifully illustrated interactive books.

• Travel the World with Timmy is designed to give children a taste of Kenya, Argentina and Japan. It invites students to hear and use these languages in fun, meaningful activities.

• Millie and Bailey Kindergarten offers both "Explore and Discover Mode" and "Question and Answer Mode." These experiences help build the basic concepts underlying math, reading and science.

The district has received 30 copies of each software title and one teacher manual free of charge as a result of its participation in the Office of Child Nutrition, State Purchasing Program for milk.

Each of the four elementary schools in the Hancock County School District will receive copies of this series for K-2 classroom use.

The software showcase will take place at East Hancock Elementary, 4221 Kiln-DeLisle Road, Kiln.

World Conference of Mayors to meet in Biloxi

The Mississippi Gulf Coast will host the international World Conference of Mayors August 9-12. Hundreds of delegates and guests, primarily African-American, are expected to attend the conference held at Beau Rivage.

The conference will focus on the gaming industry. Panel presentations will address the growth of gaming in the United States, tourism, taxation, and Native and Hispanic Americans' interests in the industry.

The Mississippi Gulf Coast exemplifies how gaming can benefit a community. Mississippi State Representative Billy Broomfield, conference national chairperson, said the Mississippi Gulf Coast has historically been a family destination, and gaming has enhanced what south Mississippi has to offer.

"People want to duplicate what Mississippi has done," he said.

According to Broomfield, prominent conference speakers will include Gov. Ronnie Musgrove, Lt. Gov. Amy Tuck and Biloxi Mayor A.J. Holloway during the opening session; New Orleans Mayor Marc Morial, and Terrence O'Sullivan, newly-elected general president of the Laborers' International Union of North America (LIUNA).

The conference's primary objective is to stimulate positive relations between mayors worldwide, said Broomfield. "Leaders of local governments working together will lead to a more peaceful world," he said.

The Mississippi Gulf Coast was selected as the host destination for its excellent amenities, warm hospitality, and its successful gaming industry.

Biloxi city councilman Eric Dickey, event co-host, is delighted about the conference coming to the Mississippi Gulf Coast because it will generate international recognition for Mississippi, particularly the Gulf Coast.

The organization consists of members from 38 countries on the African continent, the Caribbean Islands and the United States.

"Our guests are excited about coming to the Mississippi Gulf Coast," Dickey said. Leisure activities will include a seafood boil, a golf tournament, and a dinner/dance cruise.

Broomfield said the conference "will pump large dollars into our economy, and it will be a win-win situation for everyone."

Diamondhead Garden Club meeting date

The Diamondhead Garden Club will meet Sept. 13, 2000 at 10 a.m. in the Community Center. Please make a note of the change; it is the first meeting of the club year.

Garden-of-the-month awards go to:

Residential Garden - Joycelyn and Wayne Stephens, 5446 Diamondhead Drive East
Golf Course Garden - Til and Chuck Garrison, 7720 Puna Pl., #1 Pine

Commercial Award - Diamondhead Business & Professional Association for the new main entrance. This garden will be maintained by the POA staff. The award recipients are chosen by the garden club committee members who do their best to canvass the yards of Diamondhead and recognize outstanding effort.

There are restrictions regarding how often a home or commercial establishment may receive an award. For instance, the recipient of a Residential or Golf Course award is not eligible for another two years.

The Commercial Award begins with a clean slate every calendar year. In addition to the more obvious business locations, builders of "spec" homes qualify for the Commercial Award.

Southern Living magazine offers tips on pruning crepe myrtles in the July 2K issue (p. 64). Seedpods formed after flowering tend to weigh down the crepe myrtle's thin branches, stressing them.

The seedpod sprays also divert the tree's energy toward propagation (maturing seeds) rather than flowering (attractiveness).

Most of us will not be growing crepe myrtles from seed, but very much enjoy the color the flowers provide during summer, so pruning these woody sprays works to our advantage. Clip off the seedpods, removing a minimal amount of the branch.

A reliable Diamondhead source observed a second blooming on crepe myrtles pruned this way last year.

Anyone interested in joining the garden club may contact Membership Chairman Kathi Jackson at 255-9977.

The club meets monthly from September through May. Both men and women are welcome as members.

For information, contact Liz Winsted at 255-6670

"CUEVAS" QUOTES

By Ellis C. Cuevas

I really appreciate the concerns from many of you in the community since my stepping down announcement from editor and publisher of The Sea Coast Echo which was made in early June.

There comes a time for everything to end, and it has been great serving you over the years. As I have mentioned before, I will continue being associated with The Sea Coast Echo, just on a more reduced basis.

I sure hope that you will welcome James R. (Randy) Ponder the way you did me a bit over 23 years ago when I moved up from general manager to editor and publisher.

Prior to becoming Echo publisher I was a frequent fisherman, or as the late Dec Elliott would say, "ardent" fisherman.

I told my brother Raymond to get his boat ready, because I am itching to hit the water once again to bring in some of those nice specks, reds and flounders.

It has been so long I may have forgotten how to catch them. If I have, it will not take too long to pick it up again.

Our brother, Clemence, is scheduled to be down in November, and he probably likes to fish more than Raymond and I put together. His only problem is that he lives so far from saltwater in North Carolina.

One of the problems in recent weeks has been the heat, which has made fishing really a chore. I am sure the cooler weather will make fishing good in the months ahead.

Some of my first fishing was in the old sandpit between Bay St. Louis and Waveland as a youngster.

We just liked to catch those bream and bass.

I can enjoy myself with a bream pole and can of worms, as perch are fun to catch.

I have a few friends who have ponds, and when it cools down a bit I will be giving them a call, too.

Do not forget the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's August Business After Hours this evening from 5 to 7 at the Bay St. Louis-

Hancock County Library, Highway 90, Bay St. Louis.

The After Hours is co-sponsored by the Library Foundation of Hancock County and Diamondhead and Waveland Supermarkets.

Attending one, one can experience good fellowship and some very good snacks. The library always has a very good After Hours, and then you add Diamondhead and Waveland Supermarkets and it should be tremendous.

Admission is two business cards, and there will be door prizes.

The After Hours is for chamber members and guests.

The time is now for parents to begin to get those back-to-school clothing for their youngsters.

In less than three weeks local school bells will be ringing in the new school year.

In last Sunday's edition of The Echo we carried some of the supplies needed for students.

It seems that it was only yesterday when school was out for the summer.

It is hoped that all of our youngsters had a good summer and had an opportunity to enjoy themselves. I know I really enjoyed summers when I was in school. It always seemed the three months of summer flew by while the nine months of school just dragged by so slowly.

The opening home game of semi-pro football comes to Bay St. Louis Saturday night when the Gulf Coast StingRays will play host to the Memphis Knights at the St. Stanislaus Brother Phillip Memorial Stadium.

The kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m. and the StingRays are 1-0 for the season after defeating Baton Rouge 6-0 for the team's season opener last weekend.

The StingRays play an exciting game, and many of the players' names you will recognize.

I know head coach Matt Karl is real excited as he has been working towards such a team for many years.

Do not forget the game at 7:30 p.m. at the Stanislaus stadium, Bookter Street, Bay St. Louis.

Keep your kids safe -- buckle up!

He was standing there in the front seat of the car next to mine stopped at the traffic light. Happy, smiling face with twinkling blue eyes waving over to me with his little hands, trying to get my attention. Probably three or four years old and just as handsome as could be. I waved back to him and he responded with the biggest smile I think I have ever seen.

I waved to the child but I was trying to see the driver of the car. I wanted to lower my window and tell that person just how criminal it was to allow that little boy to stand on the seat of that car. That he should be securely strapped into a child seat in the back seat of that car. But I did not. The light changed and we both drove away.

Several times in the last few days, I have thought of that

Points to Ponder

by James R. "Randy" Ponder chance encounter. And each time, my mind plays out the same scene: A sudden stop or crash, and that little guy going through the windshield. Not his fault. Not in his youthful innocence. He has no knowledge of the dangers involved with his actions. He depends on others to keep him safe and to teach him the proper things to do. Not his fault, but he's the one likely to pay the ultimate price.

Maybe this bothers me so much because one of my own sons is about the same age as that little boy. I know what each of my children mean to me and that I would never forgive myself if my lack of attention or carelessness was to cause one of them harm.

I was also recently in an automobile accident and I am completely convinced that the only thing that kept me from being seriously injured was the seatbelt I was wearing. The force of the crash not only destroyed the vehicle, it even scrambled the groceries and other items in the trunk of the car like eggs. Cans of this, bottles of that, were so blended together that nothing was salvageable. The seatbelts and air bags did their jobs. I was not ejected from the car and was able to walk away.

Folks, the bottom line is that allowing children to ride around in vehicles without using seatbelts is illegal. In the event of even a minor crash, they would almost certainly be injured.

Whoever was driving the car with the little boy, I urge you to do yourself and him a big favor and buckle him in the next time you get in that car. And don't forget to fasten your own seatbelt.

Letters to the Editor

Jackson should apologize publicly for racial statements

Mr. Editor,

I wanted to write in response to many of the recent accusations and actions surrounding the controversial death of Mr. Johnson.

First, and most importantly, I want to wish the Johnson family understanding and peace for their family in a most troublesome period.

I would not insult them by telling them that I know what it must feel like, because I don't. I have never lost a close loved one due to an untimely death. Many people's thoughts and prayers, including mine, go out to you.

As a lifelong Mississippian, I had hoped from the beginning that no one in this wonderful state would be so ignorant to commit homicide merely because a young black man was dating a woman of the opposite race.

Although this concept was inconceivable in my mind, I was willing to accept it as long as the evidence backed up that theory. I was slow to judge the situation not having all the facts revealed early on in the investigation. Unfortunately, the "Reverend" Jessie Jackson did not do the same.

Mr. Jessie Jackson came into our state, started making many accusations that he could not prove, and fueled many fears among the Afro-American people in a difficult time.

Mr. Jackson went as far as to say that he knew that the hanging was a "lynching" and insinuated a police cover-up. Mr. Jackson is not qualified to make these kinds of conclusions.

It is my contention that the "Reverend" Jessie Jackson capitalizes on the plights of the Afro-American people to gain publicity and to promote his own agenda.

I hope that the black population will see "through" Mr. Jackson and realize that his most recent actions were irresponsible at best. According to most recent information, three autopsies have ruled the hanging as self-inflicted.

One of these autopsies was requested and paid for by the Johnson family themselves. Three separate pathologists, who are qualified to make educated conclusions on the cause of deaths, have proven the "Reverend" Jessie Jackson was wrong.

Most recently, the "Reverend" Jessie Jackson claimed the seizure of the family computer as "Waco Style" seizure. He further stated that the police came into the house with guns in hand.

The release of the tape, which recorded the seizure disproves, once again, any of Mr. Jackson's claims. The accusations were just whimsical rhetoric on Jessie Jackson's part.

Lastly, I share Governor Musgrove's desire for Jessie Jackson to apologize for his irresponsible and hasty judgments in this case.

Mr. Jackson should apologize in the same arena that he loves so dearly -- on TV. in the public eye.

TECHNICALITIES

By State Auditor
Phil Bryant
MUNICIPALITIES

Q Must public notice be given if the budget is revised?

A Only if the cumulative revisions to a department's original budget total a 10% or more increase or decrease.

Then that portion of the budget must be publicized in the same fashion as the original budget. (Section 21-35-25 and I-F1 of the Municipal Audit and Accounting Guide)

Q May a municipality borrow money to make up an ad valorem tax or other revenue short fall?

A Yes. (§ 27-39-333)

Q Will the next board taking office July 1, 2001, be able to revise the budget adopted by the current board for the fiscal year October 1, 2000, to September 30, 2001?

A The next board will be limited to one revision, and it may only be made during a regular meeting not later than August 2001, and then only if there are unappropriated funds and a deficit in the budget. (§ 21-35-25)

Q Must a public hearing be held for the adoption of a municipal budget?

A Yes, a public hearing must be held outside normal working hours at least one week prior to the adoption of the final budget. (§ 21-35-5)

Diamondhead couple present camp at Discovery Center

Bill and Carol Hill of Diamondhead presented "Camp Woodchuck" at the Lynn Meadows Discovery Center. "Our main goal was for the kids to have fun," said Hill, "and to have a sense of accomplishment about the wood projects they completed."

The Hills introduced the campers to different tools and the safe way to use them during the week-long camp.

Cody Bouis, 7, of Bay St. Louis, created a ramp for his toy cars and trucks by using nails, hammer and a drill.

Jack Hansen, 6, of Gulfport, made his birdhouse with a saw and some paint, while Alex Weir, 7, of Long Beach, used a coping saw to cut out a miniature wood snake.

"Camp Woodchuck" was one of 24 summer camps offered by the Discovery Center this summer.

Zaro takes over Depot grounds

Zaro, Bay PD K-9, can often be found being put through his exercise paces in the quiet Depot neighborhood on the front lawn of the Depot property. Assisting Sgt. Paul Cox, Zaro's assigned handler, is the city's Animal Warden Ron Fraley.

Acquired by the city and originally trained in 1997, Zaro's first handler was the late Officer Paul Denham. When Denham left the city's police force for service with the Mississippi Highway Patrol, Sgt. Cox became Zaro's handler and received the necessary training to be able to deliver the German commands to which Zaro responds.

Zaro rarely has a day off from work. He is part of a loosely formed K-9 Squad that is used in various multi-jurisdictional operations, particularly the interdiction of drugs into the Hancock County community.

Cox, whose patrol car is highly recognizable as carrying a K-9, and Zaro are companions and partners. The team trains on and off patrol hours, often with the help of a costumed "criminal," padded to protect from

Zaro, a frequent visitor to schools, is known to be a friend upon command with children, but immediately switches to his role of police officer with the change in a tone of voice and a

Southern Miss to graduate first hydrography class tomorrow

By Linda Skupien

Ten University of Southern Mississippi students set to graduate in ceremonies in Hattiesburg Friday, Aug. 4, will soon be charting new territory — literally. They are the first class in USM's hydrographic science program, a master's degree program that prepares its students to survey and chart the world's oceans. The program focuses on the study of navigable waters, a multidisciplinary field vital to the safe and effective operation of ships.

"This program will create national and international technical leaders and policy makers," predicted Rear Adm. Ken Barbor, commander of the U.S. Meteorology and Oceanography Command, headquartered at Stennis Space Center in Hancock County.

The prospective USM graduates are civilian employees and officers from the U.S. Navy's oceanography community.

Rear Adm. Richard D. West, oceanographer of the Navy, will join the hydrographic science students and their fellow graduates as guest speaker for the 6:30 p.m. commencement ceremony at USM's Hattiesburg campus. U.S. Rep. Bennie Thompson, D-Miss., will address an earlier USM commencement ceremony at 2:30 p.m., also at Reed Green Coliseum. Nearly 1,000 USM students will graduate in the two summer ceremonies.

The hydrography program is a partnership between the U.S. Navy and USM at Stennis Space Center, and Navy officials say it fills a pressing need for that branch of the military.

Brian D. Connon of St. Marys, W.Va., a hydrography student and Navy lieutenant commander, sees the program as a plus for preparing him for leadership responsibilities. "The goal of the program from the Navy side is to reinvigorate our officer corps with a knowledge of hydrography, to understand how it applies to the Navy," he said. "It is one of the core disciplines of the community I am in, the meteorology and oceanography community."

"My background has been in geography," Connon continued. "The program has been a great experience for me — to be able to come in here, work with some true professionals recognized around the world in the field, and to get the knowledge that is going to help the Navy in the long run."

"The summer program is basically all field work," said student William D. Currie of Bay St. Louis. "We are surveying the Gulfport Ship Channel and the major part of Bay St. Louis. We find hazards to navigation, but you have to be able to position those accurately. So we use GPS (global position system for satellite navigation), studying all about the satellites and the communications involved," he added. "It is about the safety of navigation, safety of people, safety of the vessel."

Stennis has become a center for naval hydrography with both the Naval Meteorology and Oceanography Command, headquarters of the Navy's meteorology and oceanography community, and the command's largest subunit, the Naval Oceanographic Office, located on the site. With the only resident faculty at Stennis, the USM

Department of Marine Science, chaired by Dr. Denis Wiesenburg, was a natural partner to develop the hydrography program.

Hancock tract auctioned for $4.6M

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer

When the shouting stopped and the dust had cleared Tuesday, an unidentified partnership bid $4.6 million to pick up a prime 632-acre tract of undeveloped land in Hancock County.

J.P. King Auction Co., of Gadsden, Ala., conducted the auction, and 35 bidders turned out for the auction, which lasted more than three hours.

The land, purchased more than a year ago by a group of 12 Louisiana investors chartered as the Jackson Ridge LLC, is off Lower Bay road just west of the city limit. It includes Jackson Marsh, a 110-acre lake and a couple of three bedrooms homes.

The auctioneer divided the property into nine parcels and bids were taken on each section, on combinations of sections and on the whole package.

Contacted in Gadsden after the auction, Larry Hathorn, sales manager for J.P. King, said the property sold for "about what he expected."

In addition to the $4.6 million bid, the successful bidders must also pay a 7.5 percent auction fee, bringing the total for the property to $4.9 million, he said.

Hathorn said the owners desired to remain anonymous, and did not talk of immediately developing the property, which includes some wetlands.

Hathorn said J.P. King has conducted several other successful auctions in Hancock County, most recently selling the historic Scenic Oaks property on South Beach Boulevard for around $2.9 million.

Sundance -- worried too late

entrance opens on to Brown Ave., a tiny partially paved street, too narrow for two cars to pass each other.

One South Street resident said he attended the phase 1 meeting and asked if Brown Ave. was being opened for an entrance to Sundance. It was his understanding that the planning and zoning board said it would not be opened. Now that it appears that Brown Ave. will be the alternate entrance, a lot of people want to know why the board would route a proposed 92-house subdivision on to a one-lane street. They want to know if the street will be widened, who is responsible for doing it and what the city plans to do about keeping the area safe with all the extra traffic at the other entrance to the subdivision.

"We already have more than our share of traffic in this area because we are so close to Buccaneer Park. It is already dangerous for pets and children, and just down the road, at Sears and Central is even worse," said Maria Charles.

Public Works Director Ray Eaton agreed with Charles, saying that the city plans to widen the entrance at Sears and put up a three-way stop.

"It is still a bad corner and there will still be a traffic problem, but we will do our best to address it," said Eaton.

Artigues said that as far as Brown Ave. goes, he does not know why planning and zoning picked it for an alternate entrance, but that the plans are approved and the city itself will have to look at making the needed changes to the street.

"The traffic is coming, it's progress. We can't close down and put a gate around the city. We need to make improvements on our streets, not to accommodate this developer, but to accommodate all out citizens ... the streets were planned years back and cannot accommodate the traffic we have now," said Artigues.

Maria Charles, of Sears Ave., said she was also concerned about the low water pressure in her area, which many others at the meeting acknowledged.

"The pressure is already very low and with all those new homes going in I feel that it will only get worse," said Charles. "There are times when I can't do dishes, laundry, take a shower, or flush the toilet ... I don't think those people investing in those expensive homes are going to be very happy with the situation."

Eaton asked Charles and others to keep a chart of times when the pressure is low so that he can figure out how to solve the problem by regulating various valves and pumps that affect water pressure. In addition, he said he would go back through the system to make sure there were no breaks or leaks, assuring all present that the problem could be solved.

Eaton also said a series of new drains and culverts are being installed in the area, including one under Sears Ave. that should take care of the flooding problems the area now experiences and handle that extra burden of the lower six or seven acres of the subdivision that would be drained into the area.

Marina -- stopped for now

Bernard made a motion to override the veto, with Ricky Geoffrey seconding the motion. Louie Smolensky then made the suggestion that the board members take it a step further and table the issue for the remainder of their terms.

Former Mayor John Mason admonished the board for the move.

"This project has been on the drawing board for a long time and I hope that you all (the board) have not been influenced by the same old rhetoric and the same old people who were against the parking lot at the beach," Mason said. "This project would be an improvement for Coleman Avenue and Waveland ... there are people who want to see Waveland remain the same little old podunk town it has always been and it just ain't going to happen."

Jerry Meloncon expressed his concern about the planned American Legion monument that was proposed for the marina, but Public Works Director Ray Eaton said the monument will still go up even if the marina does not.

Geoffrey, alderman for Ward 2 where the marina was proposed, said he had gotten too many calls from people who were not in favor of the project.

"I felt like a lot of people were against the project, especially in my ward, and I voted the way I felt I should, against the project," said Geoffrey.

Ward 4 Alderman Charles Piazza agreed.

"The former mayor (John Mason) seemed to think that a lot of people were for the project, but they're not, not in my ward ... not the old timers, not anyone ... and it's not just the beach people who were opposing it," said Piazza.

"We as a city need to look at other things that the city needs such as drainage, instead of a project like this at this time ... and continue the progress we have made up to now," said Ward 1 Alderman Bernard.

Ward 3 Alderman Smolensky said he was concerned over the money for the study itself.

"We were first asked for $5,000, now $10,000 -- what if it ends up costing $40,000?" said Smolensky. "I felt that voting against the project was the right thing. Besides, how can the smallest little town on the coast have the largest marina?"

Longo said he was very disappointed that after years of work, the plan was tabled without even the feasibility study being done.

"I don't understand the board not even wanting to find out if this thing could work, but of course I will respect and abide by their decision," said Longo.

The board approved a final plat for Julie Rosson's Sundance Subdivision, Phase I upon final receipt of documents and approvals required by the city.

Pass -- Weidman out

there was a motion sponsored by Kalif to again hold an administrative hearing on the Parks and Recreation Director, but it was apparent Weidman had given up any chance to defend himself.

McDonald was out sick Tuesday night, and Ward 1 Alderman Jeff Emerson served as mayor pro Tem. The five Aldermen went into the mayor's chamber briefly to discuss the situation.

They emerged after only five minutes to announce Weidman had waived his right for an administrative hearing and tendered his resignation effective Friday, Aug. 4.

Weidman sat quietly in a row of seats near the rear of the chamber, but did not comment publicly. He also refused to comment.

With the resignation accepted, Alderman-at-Large Leo "Chipper" McDermott moved to hire Robert "Robbie" Bentz for the job.

City attorney Malcolm Jones and Alderman Emerson raised legal questions about hiring Bentz outright, rather than advertise for the job.

Emerson amended his motion to hire Bentz as interim director, and he was joined in the motion by the three other Aldermen. As soon as a job description and requirements are outlined, the city plans to advertise for a Parks and Recreation director.

de Buys exhibits at Quarter Moon

"Abstract Tracks"
by James W. de Buys

Photographer James W. de Buys will be exhibiting a new collection of work at Quarter Moon Gallery beginning August 12. The series, entitled "Shore Shots" is an intimate study of life on the Gulf Coast and will be on display through Sept. 15.

The new series of photographs is a continuation of his visual chronicle of southern coastal scenery and lifestyle. With a spiritual sense of selectivity, de Buys's black and white photographs essentialize the unique nature of the Gulf Coast.

A lifelong resident of the Mississippi Coast -- and a graduate of Saint Stanislaus and Ole Miss -- de Buys has traveled the shoreline of the Gulf of Mexico from the Florida Keys to the Yucatan Peninsula, recording his love for what he saw.

The artist's opening reception will take place during the 2nd Saturday Artwalk in Bay Saint Louis on August 12, 5-8 p.m. De Buys will be on hand on opening night to discuss his work and techniques.

Quarter Moon Gallery is located at 146 Main Street, next to the Courthouse. For information, call Ellis Anderson at (228) 467-7279.

There are many things you can count on for the long haul—friends and family, for instance. For 75 years, Mississippi Power has been keeping things moving, helping things grow, casting a warm glow on the moments of your life you cherish most. As we celebrate our 75th year of service to the people of Mississippi, we look forward to shining a light on those special moments yet to come. And that kind of service really adds up.

Schools -- Hancock prepares for new year

not hiring an assistant superintendent (to replace Eddie Danzey, who retired)."

Board members ultimately approved the new salary scales for bus drivers and cafeteria workers, but defeated the new scale for registered nurses; and approved a supplement for a middle school band director. The board shot down the additional supplements for coaches and other athletic department workers, but asked Rocky Gaudin to bring members a comparison of supplements from other Coast school districts for consideration at their Aug. 8 meeting.

Tresa Massey, a school nurse at Hancock North Central, told the board that the district's salary scale for nurses is far below what it should be.

"I made $7,000 more a year in Pearl River County," she said, "and that's supposed to be the poorest county in the state. ... I now make less than I did 15 years ago starting out."

Gaudin also urged the board to take a closer look at the increased supplements for the athletic department, since most of the coaches the supplement would benefit worked several days per week during the summer in order to make sure their respective programs were up to speed.

Board President Cheryl Bennett said she would rather enact a one-time bonus for those employees to reimburse them for days worked than to bump up the salary scale permanently.

In other action Tuesday: Construction Manager Doug Necaise gave board members a progress report on school facilities as the Aug. 21 start-date for the school year nears. At Gulfview Elementary, Necaise said, some parking lot repair remains to be completed by Sadd & Cooke Corp. At the new middle school the moving-in process has begun; some furniture was incorrectly shipped and is in the process of being corrected; and gym floor re-finishing is scheduled to begin this week. Work continues at the new Vo-Tech Center, with completion expected soon. At Hancock North Central Elementary, work on the new bus drop-off has begun, as has renovation in the cafeteria and on the rest of the facility, with school expected to begin on schedule. Bids were also received for the installation of the HVAC system in the locker rooms at Hancock High, with work to begin soon, Necaise said.

Board members were presented with some policy updates, including a new policy in line with new state law that will require criminal background checks and child abuse registry checks for new employees.

The board approved Ladner's recommendation to accept the resignations of Hancock Middle School teachers Manuel Lee Bosarge, Julie Welch English and Yvonne Griffith, and of April Austin at the Vo-Tech Center.

The board approved Ladner's recommendation to employ Sherry Scarborough as certified teacher at Charles B. Murphy Elementary; Paula Lacoste at Hancock North Central; Soni Buras at East Hancock; Glenda Crowe at Hancock High; Frances Matthews at Hancock Middle; Nicole Clark at Hancock Middle; Elizabeth Travis as substitute teacher at Hancock Middle; Kimberly Saucier as District Mathematics Curriculum Supervisor; Tabbari Rogers for the position of non-certified drug education instructor at Hancock Middle; Joy Clutre as non-certified character education/ISS instructor at Hancock Middle; Linda Wilkinson as secretary at Hancock High School; and Michelle A. Necaise as a bus driver.

Board members tabled discussion on Ladner's recommendation to hire William Byrd as a secondary social studies teacher at Hancock High. Board member Larry Peterson said Byrd had submitted some controversial opinions to "the newspaper," and he wanted more information about the teacher before he was hired. Ladner said Byrd was highly qualified and board members would need a very good reason to decide not to hire him.

The board also approved adding the position of transportation director to the administrative salary schedule and approved Lynn Payne as the designee for the position. The move ended debate on the controversial matter which arose soon after Ladner took over as superintendent last year and included protests and threatened strikes by bus drivers who disagreed with the practices in place at the time.

The board approved a $226,108 payment to Casablanca Construction for renovations and construction at Hancock North Central; $59,717 to C.C.I.C. for computer counter tops and installation at all elementary schools; $40,921 to Guild, Jaubert & Hardy and Johnson, Bailey, Henderson, McNeel Architects for construction and renovations.

Pass mayor, some aldermen at odds over new fire truck

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer

Pass Christian aldermen have Mayor Billy McDonald and the city fire chief seeing red for delaying attempts to purchase a new fire truck.

At Tuesday night's meeting, the Board of Aldermen was asked to accept the low bid on a new fire truck, but the move was again tabled.

The Board publicly opened bids for a new fire truck at its June 20 meeting, and received two bids and took those under advisement. Ferrara Fire Apparatus, one of the main distributors, informed the Board by letter it was not submitting a bid because the specifications on just what kind of truck the department wanted was "too restrictive."

Sun Belt Fire Apparatus of Fairhope, Ala., submitted a bid of $269,950 for the fire truck and pumper, and Luverne Fire Apparatus of Brandon, South Dakota, submitted a bid of $267,601. Both offered a lease-purchase option. At that meeting, Ward 2 Alderman Margaret Jean Kalif wanted to know who wrote the specs for the new truck, and was told Fire Chief Rich Marvil designed the specs with the help of the city's purchasing agent.

Kalif asked, "What about a ladder truck? I'm surprised that was not considered." She said Pass Christian had and was now constructing buildings that would require an extension ladder. She said the city did not have a ladder truck and the department uses a heavy, 36-foot ladder to fight fires and it takes four firemen to handle it.

"When you lean that ladder against a building, you lose about a third of the height," she said.

The Board at that meeting took the two bids under advisement, and Tuesday night it received a five-page letter from Chief Marvil recommending the city accept the bid from Sun Belt, which was about $2,300 higher than the bid submitted by Luverne.

In the lengthy letter, Marvil cited 40 incidences where Luverne's bid did not meet specifications. At the meeting, Marvil also told aldermen the city is under a mandate by the state Fire Rating Bureau to purchase a new truck by January, 2001, and even after the purchase is approved, it would take the city about nine months to actually get the vehicle on the streets.

Kalif complained, "It was my clear understanding the Board would have some input" on the type of fire truck that would be purchased.

Ward 3 Alderman Michael Antoine said he was more concerned about the salaries of city employees than on spending $269,00 for a new fire truck.

Ward 4 Alderman Don Moore, who took office only last April, seemed frustrated by the impasse.

"Didn't we agree on the specs when we put it out to bid," Moore asked.

Ward 1 Alderman Jeff Emerson was acting as mayor pro tem, filling in for an ill McDonald, but admitted he raised concerns when the bids were put out that the package might attract only "a sole source" or one bidder.

Kalif motioned to deny or reject the bid, and was joined by Antoine. Alderman-at-Large Chipper McDermott and Moore voted nay, and there was a tie vote since Emerson abstained from breaking the tie.

The Board was advised by city attorney Malcolm Jones that the only motion on the table was one to accept the bids, but Kalif motioned to table the bids, and again was supported by Antoine. McDermott and Moore voted nay, and this time Emerson broke the tie, voting with Kalif and Antoine to table the matter until the September meeting.

Gap Band comes to Casino Magic BSL

See the original Gap Band at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis Friday, Aug. 4 at 9 p.m. This jammin' concert is $20, $25 and $30.

With the release of Live & Well, the Gap Band celebrates the widespread success of their 20-year plus recording career.

One of the most influential groups in the history of R&B, the Wilson brothers, Ronnie, Charlie and Robert, made themselves famous by recording hard-core funk that audiences could dig.

The new, all-live album presents the Gap Band at their absolute best, still delivering the passion of soul with funk's insanity wrapped up in the one-of-a-kind Wilson brothers' charm.

The Wilson brother's story began in earnest in Tulsa, Oklahoma in 1967 when brother and keyboardist Ronnie decided to assemble a group with Brother Charlie, on vocals and keyboards, and future jazz/new ager Tuck Anderson on guitar. Not much later, baby brother Robert joined in on bass.

Named after the black business hub of Tulsa, the Gap Band quickly became known as expert pickup musicians for visiting R&B celebrities.

During one of those backup gigs in north Tulsa, the brothers met Russell Bridges, who later changed his name to Leon Russell.

While hanging out at Russell's Shelter Studios, the Wilsons met J. J. Cale, Willie Nelson and D. J. Rogers, whom they would back up in the 70's.

In 1973, Russell signed the group to his label and, a year later, they released their first records, Magician's Holiday and Mama's Boy.

By 1977, The Gap Band had signed with RCA-distributed Tattoo Records and put out a self-titled album.

Certified platinum, Gap Band III announced a new era for the Gap Band. By this time, they were one of a few black acts to use the then-nascent tool of video, which combined with their unbelievable knack for hit songs to guarantee that the Gap Band would own R&B in the early 80's.

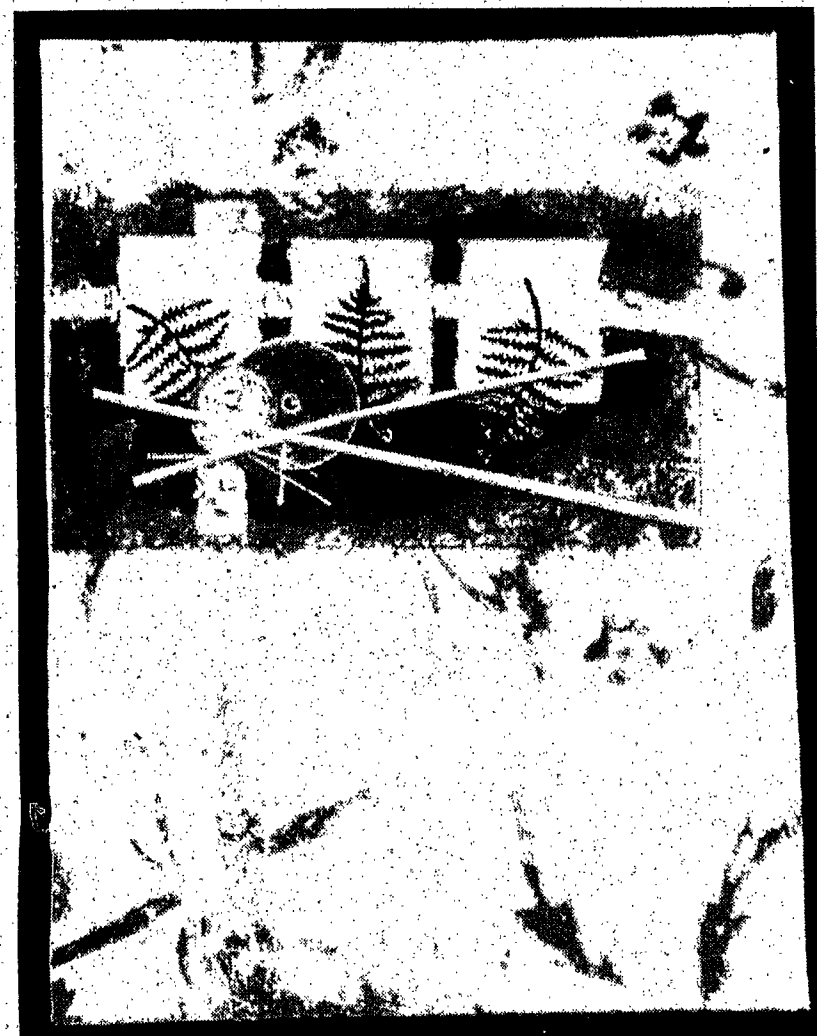

"Early In The Morning," the follow-up to "Burn Rubber," came on the next album, Gap Band IV, which proved to be another huge album with such hits as "You Dropped A Bomb On Me" and "Outstanding."

The Gap Band's most recent studio album, titled Round Trip, was recorded in 1989 and featured the hit single "Addicted To Your Love."

Tickets are available through the Casino Magic Box Office at 1-800-5-MAGIC-5, or through any TicketMaster outlet.

You must be at least 21 years of age to attend.

Randolph to exhibit at Serenity Gallery for Second Saturday

Brenda Randolph's "Buying Time"

"Buying Time" is the title of the next Second Saturday art exhibit at Serenity Gallery. Brenda Randolph, the featured artist, is the most popular artist ever to show at Serenity.

Gallery owner Jerry Dixon said that when he met Brenda, he was immediately intrigued with her creativity and ability to involve her audience in her art works.

Jim Ballard, who then lived in Bay St. Louis, played music at her shows that was inspired by her art work. Color therapists interpreted her art work for their clients. Doctors, lawyers and hospitals quickly bought them for waiting rooms and for their homes. Her works are now nationally collected.

The jewel-like quality and colors capture the viewer's attention.

The mystery and ancient symbolism during those times is still present in many of her paintings.

Randolph's current inspiration comes from time spent overlooking the bayou from her studio. The quiet time there seems never ending, she says, somewhat timeless.

She said color has always attracted her, and as usual she pleases her audience with wonderful juxtaposition of shape and form. She works in a variety of mediums, including non-traditional, expressionistic, mixed media and three dimensional mosaics.

One creation that will be in the show is a mosaic birdbath in which many tiny mirrors have been used to reflect the beauty of nature.

Time is relative - not enough time, where did the time go, timeless, good time, happy time, time flies, "Tulsa Time", next time, past time, perfect time, time gap, present time, overtime, time and time again, or perhaps time to heal.

And like past times, Jim Ballard will provide inspired music for the show.

Discovery Center announces August back to school events

In August, the Lynn Meadows Discovery Center in Gulfport celebrates back-to-school fun.

On Saturday, Aug. 5, children in the first and second grades can learn to make their own after-school treats like mini pizzas and glo-germ.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

Submitted by Craig Foster
Edward Jones Co.

Your mutual funds might be getting 'tech-heavy'

Do you know what you're investing in? The answer may startle you.

Of course, you do have some idea of where your investment dollars are going. For example, you may have bought some technology stocks, which have clearly dominated the marketplace recently.

There are numerous promising opportunities in this area, including companies that specialize in the Internet, wireless and cable communications, and so-called "broadband" - the technology that allows voice and data to be delivered simultaneously over the Internet.

When you buy these types of companies, you're obviously hoping that your investment will grow significantly.

However, you need to be aware that, in exchange for these growth prospects, you are also accepting a relatively high degree of investment risk - a point that was made quite clear in recent months when the technology-heavy Nasdaq Composite Index went through some enormous ups and downs.

There's nothing wrong with investing in these technology stocks - as long as that's what you have in mind. But, you don't want to become an "inadvertent" investor.

You might be surprised, for example, at how many technology holdings you have in your mutual funds.

The average stock fund manager has raised his or her fund's technology allocation from just 2.6 percent in 1991 to 24.3 percent in 1999, according to Morningstar, a well-known mutual fund rating agency.

Part of the reason for this jump is that mutual fund managers get judged by their performance - and lately, virtually all the big performance numbers have come from technology stocks.

But, when these stocks decline, they often fall longer and harder than the overall market.

Fund managers aren't trying to hide these increases in technology holdings - in fact, this information is readily available in the semiannual and annual reports you receive from your mutual fund companies.

But unless you pay particularly close attention to the "holdings" section of these reports, you could be surprised at the story they're telling.

If you do find out that your mutual funds have taken on a heavy weighting in technology, what should you do?

The answer depends totally on your individual preferences, your risk tolerance and your time horizon.

If you plan on investing for many more years, and you don't mind assuming some short-term risk in exchange for potential long-term returns, then you may decide to leave your fund as it is, assuming you are still satisfied with the fund manager's investment philosophy.

On the other hand, if you think you will be needing the money in the near future, and you are uncomfortable with the level of investment risk posed by a technology-heavy fund, then you may want to make some changes.

Under any circumstances, though, it's always a good idea to periodically review your mutual fund portfolio with your investment representative and "rebalance" it to meet your needs.

Mutual funds do change over time; as an informed investor, you should make sure those changes conform with your needs and objectives.

Unemployment rate up in June

Student job seekers entering the summer labor market and the layoff of educational sector workers for the summer sent the June unemployment rate up more than a percentage point from May, the Mississippi Employment Security Commission (MESC) announced.

The June unemployment rate for the state was 6.9 percent up from 5.8 percent in May. The national unemployment rate for June was 4.2 percent.

"Some 19,500 more people were in the civilian labor force in June than in May," said MESC Executive Director Thomas E. Lord. "The economy simply could not provide enough jobs for all who sought work."

There were 1,248,700 Mississippians employed during June while 93,100 were unemployed. The unemployed total rose by 16,000 from May to June.

Another factor leading to the rise in the unemployment rate were the loss of Census 2000 jobs as workers completed the population count of the state.

Most counties saw their rates rise for the month. Twenty-eight counties had double-digit rates with Jefferson County posting the state's highest rate for the month at 24.7%.

Rankin County with a rate of 3.1 percent had the state's lowest rate. Lafayette County with a rate of 3.4 percent was second lowest and Desoto County with a rate of 3.5 percent was third.

Lord said he expects July's unemployment numbers to be close to those in June.

Conversations with Gulf Coast Artists

Conversations with Gulf Coast artist Dorothy McLemore

By Ellis Anderson
Contributing Writer

Dorothy McLemore's name instantly brings to mind the 1940's film star, Dorothy Lamour, but in person, it's obvious that she's really more of an Audrey Hepburn. She's tall and lithe and wears her dark hair pulled back in an elegant chignon. The image that comes to mind is one of Hepburn in the movie "Roman Holiday."

McLemore's own "Roman Holiday" occurred when she was in her twenties and on her first trip abroad. It's easy to visualize her as an awestruck young woman in Rome, a slender figure in a full shirt-waist dress, gazing intently at frescos by Michelangelo. She haunted the museums in each city she visited and spent her days studying works by the great masters.

"I purchased my first painting in Florence," McLemore begins. "My sister and I were racketing around Europe for about a month. That trip was my true awakening to the world of art. It was a glorious experience!"

The painting she brought home became the base for a collection that continues to grow even today. McLemore's house is something of a museum itself.

It's obvious to even a casual observer that much thought has been given to the placement and lighting of each piece. Every room is graced by works that range from the classical to contemporary creations by regional artists.

McLemore keeps most of her own work in her comfortable studio that looks out over a thickly wooded yard. Her current project rests on an easel next to a loose pencil sketch of the same peaceful scene.

Vivid landscape canvasses lend color to the walls and brighten the corners of the room. The airy space has a light-hearted feel, designed to bring the outside in.

"Oh, I learned to paint outdoors," McLemore explains. "As a child in New Orleans, I used to attend art classes in the summer with a Mrs. Ellison. She had a studio in an enormous old garden district home. Four or five other pre-teens were in the class and every week she'd herd us all onto the streetcar, laden with our paintboxes and easels. We'd ride down to the French Quarter and spend the day being sidewalk artists. That was a marvelous introduction to painting."

McLemore continued with her art classes at Newman and later at Newcomb College, where she majored in French. After graduation, she was offered a job with the state social services department, and became so enthralled with the job that she remained there for most of her working career.

"I really enjoyed the work. It was always interesting and I was surrounded by wonderful, fascinating people from all walks of life. It was real people, real life."

This fascination for real life and her love for fine art, led Dorothy and her first husband to take an apartment in the French Quarter.

"It was a slightly scandalous place to live at the time," she says. "My grandmother, who lived uptown, asked an elderly schoolteacher friend to drive her to the Quarter just to inspect our house. She didn't make a fuss but she never did quite approve."

McLemore didn't let her grandmother influence her. She remained in the French Quarter for most of her adult life.

After that pivotal European tour with her sister, the artist met and married her second husband, Geren, in 1967. Together, they bought a house in a quiet, residential section of the Vieux Carre.

For the next twenty-odd years, they became fixtures in the art community there, befriending both artists and gallery owners.

Gulf Coast artist Dorothy McLemore, originally from New Orleans and now a Bay St. Louis resident, experiments with form and color in one of her works at her home.

"It was a tremendously exciting time to be in the French Quarter. It was the real hub of the New Orleans art world then. All the important galleries were located within walking distance of our house and many nationally known artists were our neighbors."

The McLemores both took early retirement in 1987. Dorothy wanted some time to make art as well as collect it and she returned to classes at the New Orleans Academy of Art.

Her husband meanwhile developed a love for Bonsai trees and suddenly found that there was a shortage of outdoor space at their Quarter house. When they began searching for a home out of the city, the Gulf Coast seemed a natural place to look.

"My family had owned a camp on Bayou Portage when I was a child," says McLemore. "We'd spend part of the summers there, while my grandfather and father would catch the train in to work every day. I always loved the natural beauty of the Coast, but what surprised me after we moved here in 1989 was the discovery that the area was literally bristling with artists, many of them from New Orleans!"

One of these New Orleans refugees, Jerry Dixon, had opened Serenity Gallery in Old Town Bay Saint Louis. He began showing McLemore's vibrant oil paintings and she entered several regional art shows. Within a short time, her distinctive style had developed a following of its own. The art collector's own work was becoming collectible. She laughs off the suggestion that she's become a well-known figure in the local art scene, but admits her newest series has been very popular.

"The work is about reflections. They're landscapes, and to me they're about shapes and colors. I paint the landscape itself in a rather impressionistic way and then paint the reflections in the water as abstracts."

Most of the paintings seem to depict a world that's a slight dimension away from the reality we see every day. The colors are a bit more vivid, the shapes are more pronounced and the shadows have more depth. The overall effect brings the eye back to the paintings again and again, delighting all the viewer's senses.

As McLemore discusses the joy she's found in painting, her eyes spark with enthusiasm. With true Audrey Hepburn elegance, she gestures dramatically to include her entire house.

"I couldn't possibly live without being surrounded by art. To wake up, to see paintings that you're emotionally attached to, that's what counts! If I lived in a one-room hovel and it contained a few good creations, I'd be completely happy," she says, and there is no doubt that she has spoken the absolute truth. "The art is what's important. It's the essential spirit of life!"

TEN YEARS AGO

August 2, 1990 - The Hancock County Board of Supervisors met Wednesday with officials from Bay St. Louis and Waveland to discuss consolidation of recreation and other services.

Participating in the meeting were supervisors Ronnie Cuevas, Robert Peterson, Lisa Cowand, Wilmer Seymour and Mike Ladner, Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre, council member Charlie Scianna and Waveland alderman Barbara Rappold.

Cuevas said a primary concern is to determine if consolidation of several departments, including recreation, law enforcement dispatching and the court systems is practical and feasible.

While some officials pointed out that careful consideration and planning are needed if consolidation is to work, all agreed the idea is good.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

August 7, 1975 - Over 300 children are expected to crowd the Garfield Ladner Memorial Pier in Waveland Saturday for the third annual Children's Fishing Rodeo sponsored by the Waveland Jaycees.

Rodeo chairman Ted Mumme said the first 100 children to register will receive a special gift. First, second and third place awards will be given in each of the categories in the pier competition. The Waveland Jaycees will have a concession stand.

According to Dr. C.M. Shipp, Hancock County health officer, stray dogs in Bay St. Louis are beginning to present a real problem to authorities.

During the last few months, an average of 12 people per month have been bitten by dogs that promiscuously run the streets, and it is interesting to note that most of those bitten are school children. This is a problem that many people feel should receive immediate attention.

StingRays bash Bandits in season opener

BY DWAYNE BREMER
Contributing Writer

BATON ROUGE, LA.—The Gulf Coast StingRays tasted victory for the first time Saturday night as they beat the Baton Rouge Bandits 6-0 in an overtime thriller before an estimated crowd of about 400.

"It's great to go on the road, and get the job done," said head coach Matt Karl. "We have really worked hard to get to this point, and we are going to get better."

The StingRays defense was the story. Coach Steve Odham's group allowed only 37 yards of total offense to the Bandits. The StingRays defense collected six sacks and five turnovers.

"These guys were awesome. They played about as good as a defense can," Odham said.

The Bandits opened the game with a flash, as Jamal Wells returned the kickoff 48 yards to the StingRay 42.

The Bandits would then line up quarterback Garrett Cross as a tailback, and have Cross complete a half-back pass to Keith Jackson for 22 yards, and a first-down at the Stingray 20.

The Bandits drive came to a halt when Keith Smith penetrated the line and forced Bandit back Terrence Nolen to fumble. Jacco Cooper pounced on the ball at the 23, and the StingRay defense had its first turnover of the night.

The StingRays did not pick up a first-down and had to punt the ball back to the Bandits.

The StingRays defense stopped the next Bandits drive thanks to sacks by Cooper and Desmond Smith. Tony Dickerson also had a big defensive play, by sniffing out a reverse, and stopping the Bandits runner for a 10-yard loss.

The StingRays finally got some offense going as they took over at their own 16 with 14:15 to go in the half.

Quarterback Charlie Mitchell connected with Bobby Franklin for five yards. Mitchell then scrambled for five more yards and a first-down. Mitchell then found Moe Owen for six yards. Brian "The Locomotive" Laneaux then exploded through the line, and rumbled 40 yards to give the StingRays a first down at the Bandits 28. The StingRays drive would stall, and Scott Pepperman missed a 47-yard field goal. The Bandits took over with 4:31 to play in the half.

The Bandits would not have the ball for long, however, as Dickerson made a leaping interception at the 48.

Once again the StingRays had good field position, but they could not capitalize, and were forced to punt.

The StingRays moved in for a sack against Baton Rouge Saturday in team's season opener winning their first game 6-0.

The half ended with a 0-0 tie. The StingRays would open up the second half on offense. An 18-yard kickoff return by Franklin gave the StingRays the ball at the 36.

Laneaux ran for eight yards, and Larrone Lewis gained five for a first-down at the 50. Laneaux picked up nine more, and Franklin rumbled for 15 yards and a first-down at the 26. The StingRays then went backwards as a penalty and a sack forced the StingRays to give up the ball on downs at the 29.

After a Bandits first-down, the StingRays defense made another big play. Cross floated a pass over the middle, and Rodney Conway intercepted the three-yard line. The drive was not to be though, as Lewis fumbled a handoff and the Bandits recovered the ball in the end-zone.

The StingRays defense would keep up the pressure by not allowing the Bandits to move the ball, and forcing a punt. The StingRays would take over at the Bandits 33 after a 16-yard punt return.

Bennie Tillman, now in at quarterback, completed a pass to Owen for 13 yards, and the StingRays had a first-down at the 20. The StingRays would not get any closer, and Pepperman was sent on to try a 35-yard field goal. The attempt was blocked, and the Bandits took over at the 25 with 11:32 to play.

The Bandits would pick up two first downs, and cross mid-field. The StingRay defense would then make another big play, as Cooper recovered a fumble at the 48. The StingRays took over with 6:38 to play.

The StingRays offense could not get the job done, and the Bandits would take over at their own 35 with 2:26 to play.

The Bandits last chance was thwarted by the StingRay defense, as the pass rush caused two consecutive holding penalties. With just over :20 seconds to play, Cross attempted a final pass. The pass was intercepted by Dickerson, and the game went into overtime tied at 0.

The StingRays finally caught a break and won the coin toss. The Bandits kicked off, and Franklin gave the StingRays good field position with a return to the 39.

Mitchell came back in to quarterback the StingRays, but it was Laneaux that got the ball.

Laneaux carried for eight yards, and a face mask penalty gave the StingRays a first down at the 49. Lewis had a five-yard run, but a false-start penalty put the StingRays back at the 48.

Laneaux then took the hand-off, and broke through the line. In the open field Laneaux shed tacklers, as he blasted 42 yards down to the seven-yard line. On the next play, Laneaux got the call again, and this time he roared up the middle breaking tackles, and danced into the endzone, as a frustrating night of offense ended with a 6-0 overtime victory. "I gave 100 percent tonight; everyone on the team gave 100 percent tonight," said Laneaux. "My line blocked pretty well, and I'm thankful for the chance I had to win it."

Laneaux finished the game with 128 yards on 14 carries.

"We really came together as a team tonight. These guys really love to play, and we just want to win. That's all we want is to win," said Rodney Conway.

The StingRays will come home next week to play the Louisiana Gators. The game will be Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. Home games will take place at St. Stanislaus field. Admission is $6.

"We're glad to get this first one behind us, and we are really excited about coming home next week," said team owner Gus McKay.

NGA Golf Tour coming to The Bridges in BSL

The National Golf Association Tour is coming to The Bridges in Bay St. Louis for the Casino Magic Classic, Aug. 14-20, benefiting the Children's Wish Foundation International.

The NGA Tour is the third largest 72-hole professional golf tour in the country, behind the PGA & Buy.com tours, and boasts alumni like U.S. Open winner Lee Janzen, British Open & PGA Champion John Daly, as well as Tom Lehman, Jim Furyk and Stewart Cink, to name a few.

The NGA Tour has helped more than 100 professionals acquire their PGA, Senior PGA and Buy.com Tour cards.

In fact, 35 percent of the players who earned their 2000 PGA Tour card started their careers on the NGA Tour.

Tournament week begins at The Bridges with the Monday Qualifier Aug. 14, the Pro-Am on Wednesday, Aug. 16, round one of the tournament kicking off Thursday, Aug. 18, with a Junior Clinic starting at 2 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 19. There is no admission charge for spectators for any rounds of play.

The total purse for the Casino Magic Classic at The Bridges will be $105,000 with $20,000 going to the winner.

Without a doubt, so far the biggest story on tour this year has been the total domination of Chad Campbell. The Andrews, Texas native has been nearly unbeatable. Through 15 events, Campbell has won an amazing seven times while racking up almost $160,000 in prize money. In fact, Campbell has earned more than $820,000 in less than four years on the NGA Tour.

Fire Dogs drop bomb on Bombers 49-34

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The Mississippi Fire Dogs dropped a bomb on the Shreveport Bombers with a 49-34 win on Saturday, July 29, at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum. The Fire Dogs moved to 9-5 on the season and still hold their destiny in their hands. The win did clinch a playoff spot for Mississippi; however, if the Fire Dogs win the two remaining games then they will host the IPFL championship game on August 26 in the Coliseum.

In the game, Fire Dogs wide receiver Kenny Causey reached 100 receptions on the season. Causey commented, "Our offensive line played awesome tonight. They gave our quarterback some time to get the balls away to the receivers. As far as the individual accomplishment goes, it is nice to achieve such a mark. But, this is a team game and team goals come first. We still have two regular season games left. We need to win them both and assure ourselves a place in the championship game. We need to get better in the red zone as an offense, as well."

The Bombers started on offense first. Hancock County native Bobby Doyle and the rest of the Dog defense stopped the Bombers from advancing. Shreveport turned the ball over on a missed 60-yard field goal that Causey returned all the way back to the Bombers' 10 yardline.

It took the Fire Dogs five plays but they made it into the endzone. Quarterback/head coach John Fourcade found Buster Browne for a four-yard score with 9:05 left in the opening quarter. Tim Hardaway made good on the PAT and the score was 7-0.

The Bombers took over on their own 15 yardline after the ensuing kickoff and return. The Bombers showed the Fire Dogs that they could score quickly, as well. Shreveport took just three plays to find the endzone. Tacoma Fontaine scored from four yards out with 7:07 left in the first period. The PAT was blocked by Donald Suber which left the score 7-6.

The Fire Dogs relied on the foot of Hardaway from 23 yards out to give the Dogs the lead for good. Hardaway's field goal gave Mississippi a 9-6 lead with 5:17 left to play in the first quarter.

The Bombers pushed the ball right down the field on their next possession but ran into some bad luck trying to get in the endzone. Fontaine fumbled the ball into the endzone from two yards out and Doyle recovered the loose pigskin.

Three consecutive passes from Fourcade and the Dogs were back in business. The third pass was to Nicky Seymour for a 10-yard score with 14:55 left in the first half. Hardaway missed the PAT leaving the score 15-6.

The Fire Dogs held the Bombers on three plays and safety on the Bombers' next possession giving Mississippi a 24-12 lead at the intermission.

Opening the second half on offense, the Fire Dogs picked up the right where they left off. Fourcade found Causey two the score with :12 left in the third quarter. The PAT by Hardaway was good making the score 40-20.

The Mississippi defense held strong and forced the Bombers into a long field goal situation. After the missed attempt, Mississippi took over on their own five yardline. Three plays later, Fourcade threw his third interception of the game. However, the defense bailed him out again and kept the Bombers out of the endzone.

On the Bombers' next possession, it took just one play for Ketric Carter to score from 15 yards out with 4:22 left in the game. The two-point conversion was no good leaving the score at 40-26.

The Fire Dogs scored their last touchdown of the game on the next drive. Fourcade found Browne for an eight-yard score with 1:00 left in the game. Hardaway made good on the PAT and the score was 47-26.

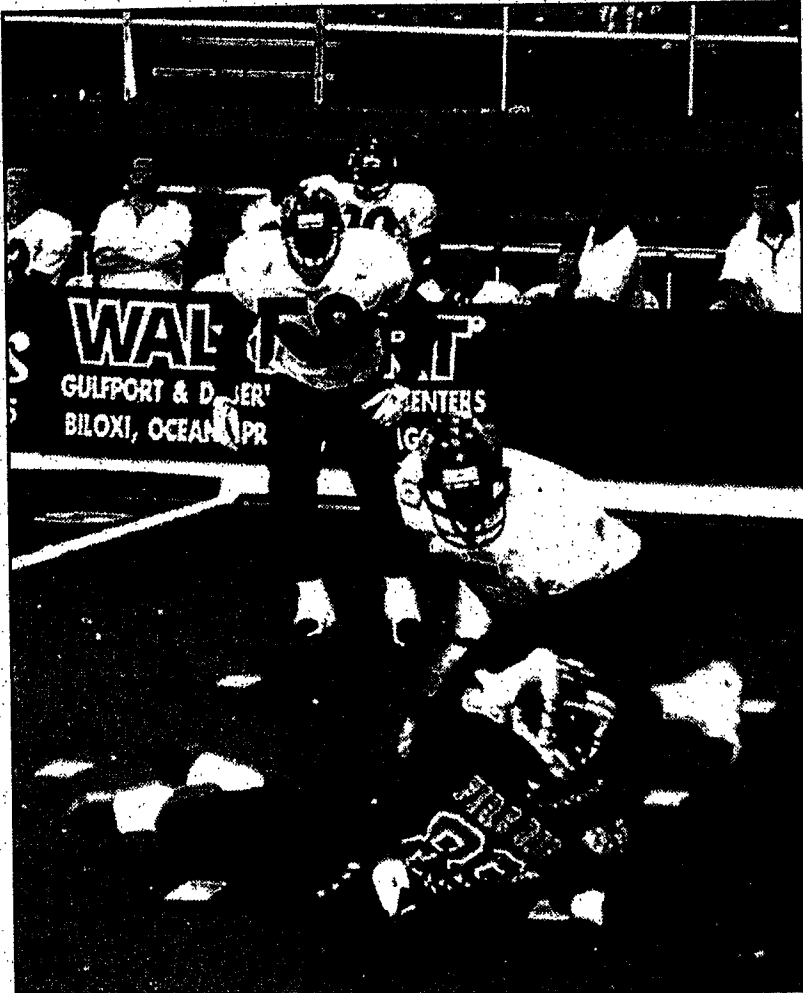

Banks was intercepted by Fire Dog safety Kevin Rouis in the endzone on a desperation pass to give the ball back to Mississippi. But, the Fire Dogs fumbled in the endzone on the next play and Shreveport recovered the loose ball for a touchdown with :39 left in the game. The two-point conversion by Banks was good making the score 47-34.

Mississippi would turn the ball over on downs with :17 left to play in the game. Two plays later, Banks was sacked in the endzone for the second safety of the game by the Fire Dog defense. The final score of the game was 49-34.

Fourcade commented, "We had some problems tonight that we will need to address before heading back to Shreveport next weekend. I thought our offensive line played well tonight and allowed only one sack late in the game. We gave up some easy points to Shreveport tonight. We had to stop their running game. We wanted them to try and beat us with the pass. On the easy touchdowns, we were playing a little soft but that will be corrected as well. This team knows what they have to do during the next two weeks."

Causey led the offensive attack with nine catches for 154 yards and two scores.

The win marked the eighth time in the last nine games that the Fire Dogs have come out victorious. On August 5, Mississippi travels to Shreveport to play the Bombers before returning home for the regular season finale in the Coliseum. The Fire Dogs are currently planning a Fan Appreciation Night for the final regular season game.

Just out of Reach!

Fire Dogs wide receiver Kenny Causey falls to the turf after a pass goes just out of reach against the Shreveport Bombers on July 29, in the Mississippi Coast Coliseum. Causey and Fire Dogs shot down the Bombers 49-34 to secure a playoff spot. Causey finished the game with nine catches for 154 yards and two scores. Causey also reached 100 receptions on the season during the game.

forced them into a field goal situation on the next drive. However, a penalty by Mississippi gave the Bombers new life and a new set of downs. The new life resulted in a 38-yard field goal for Shreveport with 9:10 left in the first half.

It took just one play by Fourcade to let the air out of the Bombers' sails. Fourcade hooked up with favorite target Causey for a 45-yard score with 8:54 left in the second quarter. Hardaway nailed this PAT making the score 22-6.

Mississippi's defense came back strong on the next series of downs and shut down Shreveport. The 27-yard field goal by Shreveport failed.

Mississippi started to move the ball on their next possession when Fourcade threw an interception that was returned for a touchdown with 3:00 left in the first half. The PAT was no good leaving the score 22-12.

Mississippi was shutdown for the first time on their next possession but quickly put pressure on new quarterback Richard Banks. The defense recorded a plays into the drive for a 20-yard scoring pass. Hardaway nailed the PAT and made the score 31-12.

Banks proved he could withstand the pressure from the Fire Dogs defense that kept him on the run the entire second half. Banks stepped up into the pocket and fired a 23-yard score for the Bombers with 13:22 left in the third quarter. The two-point conversion by the Bombers was good making the score 31-20.

Fourcade threw his second interception of the night on the next drive; however, the Fire Dog defense came to his aid and shut down the Bomber offense.

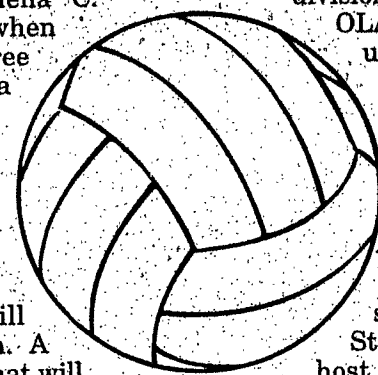

After a missed Bomber field goal, the Fire Dogs took over on their own 11 yardline. It took Mississippi nine plays to get points on the board. Hardaway kicked a 19-yard field goal with 2:35 left in the third quarter to make the score 33-20.

On Shreveport's next possession, Banks fumbled a snap and Doyle was there to pick up the loose ball. Doyle ran the ball into the endzone eight yards for

OLA to host volleyball jamboree

The high school volleyball season will kick off Saturday morning at Valena C. Jones Gym when OLA hosts three local teams in a jamboree.

Joining the Crescents will be squads from Bay High, Long Beach and Mercy Cross. Games will begin at 9 a.m. A round robin format will be followed with 30 minutes

Thursday.

Bay High is the defending division champion while OLA was the runner-up. Each team won its first-round playoff game before being eliminated in the second round of play. OLA will open the regular season Tuesday at St. Martin and will host Vancleave

Causey and Robinson are IPFL Players of the Week

Wide receiver Kenny Causey played a major role in helping Mississippi become the first team to clinch an Indoor Professional Football League (IPFL) playoff berth.

For his efforts Causey has been named the IPFL Offensive Player of the Week.

Causey totaled 257 all-purpose yards in Mississippi's 49-34 home win over Shreveport-Bossier Saturday night. In addition to his 103 return yards, Causey had game-high receiving totals of nine receptions for 154 yards and two touchdowns.

In the second quarter he hauled in a 45-yard touchdown pass to give the Fire Dogs a 22-6 lead. Later he caught a 20-yard scoring pass to give Mississippi a 31-12 third-quarter lead.

Mobile defensive back Dennison Robinson established an IPFL interception record, thus garnering him the IPFL Defensive Player of the Week honor. Robinson had an IPFL single-game record four interceptions in Saturday's 63-7 win over Idaho. Robinson's picks set up three second-half scores, which paved the way for the Seagulls to score a franchise record 63 points and post the largest margin of victory in league history.

In addition to Robinson's individual record, Mobile's defense also forced a league single-game record seven interceptions. Aside from making four interceptions, Robinson had a team-high six tackles (four unassisted and two assisted) and broke up two passes.

McIntyre takes title at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis

Will "Kid Fire" McIntyre of Covington won the NABA Super Middleweight Champion July 28 in a unanimous decision defeating opponent Shannon Landberg of Fort Wayne, Ind. in one of the most exciting bouts of the year at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis.

The 12-round battle of blows was not a disappointing fight to the energetic crowd. McIntyre, clearly a crowd favorite, was cheered on by a sold-out, standing-room-only crowd of approximately 2,000.

He will now challenge Dana Rosenblat in an ESPN fight for the world super middleweight title Oct. 13.

Landberg was rated number two by NABA and held the IBC super middleweight title.

McIntyre, who was ranked number nine by the International Boxing Federation, will now receive a top ten world ranking.

Additional highlights of the six-bout card included Carl Handy of Hammond, defeating Charles Hollis of Fort Worth, Texas.

Handy dominated from the opening bell. The fight was stopped at the first minute of the sixth round with Handy winning by TKO.

John Hover of Slidell dominated a one-way fight against Danny Doyle of Jackson, Tenn. The fight was called in the seventh round with Hover claiming a TKO.

IBA Lightweight Champion

Jeanne "Boom Boom" Martinez of Slidell, and also crowd favorite, squeaked out a controversial victory by a split decision against Britt Vanbuskirk of Makanda, Ill.

This was the 48th fight at Casino Magic, known as "The Boxing Mecca of the South."

Boxing greats such as Larry Holmes, Hector "Macho" Camacho, Roy Jones, Jr., Oscar DeLa Hoya and Roberto Duran have all fought at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis.

Local students summer grads at Ole Miss

Some 900 Mississippi State students are candidates for degrees at the conclusion of the 2000 summer semester.

Since the university no longer holds summer commencement, August graduates will receive their diplomas Dec. 15 along with the fall semester graduating class.

Graduating with honors are bachelor's-degree students who have exceptional scholastic averages and at least half their total required course hours earned at MSU.

Their levels of recognition and the minimum required averages for each, based on a 4.0 scale, include: summa cum laude, 3.80; magna cum laude, 3.60; and cum laude, 3.40.

The academic honors are recorded on the graduates' diplomas and permanent records, as well as in the commencement program.

Degree candidates from the local area include Leo W. Seal of Bay St. Louis, BS in arts and sciences, and Wallace L. Seal of Bay St. Louis, BS in arts and sciences.

Edgewater asks schools to participate in free child ID

Edgewater Village Shopping Center announces a coordinated effort with the Harrison County Sheriff's Department and local media to offer free child, fingerprinting and photographing.

Three events, entitled "Don't talk to Strangers... Shop with us," a sanctioned variation of the national campaign, "Don't talk to Strangers... Talk to Us," created by Gulf Coast resident Terry Houle, are scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 19, 11 a.m.-3 p.m.; Sept. 16 and Oct. 14 at Edgewater Village Shopping Center, Biloxi.

The event is open to all children ages 1 through 17.

Participating children K-6 will be counted by what school they attend and whose class they are in.

The students and teacher of the classroom that has the most participating students in each event will receive a T-shirt and numerous gift certificates from various Edgewater Village Merchants.

The school that has the most participating students over the three events will receive an official award certificate and $100 from Edgewater Village Shopping Center.

The program is being sponsored by Edgewater Village Shopping Center as a public service for child Safety Awareness to assist the community in the protection of Mississippi Gulf Coast children and families.

Junior Achievement needs volunteers

Junior Achievement of Mississippi, a non-profit business and economic education organization, is recruiting volunteers who are willing to share their time and talents with students in K-12th grade in the Hancock area at Hancock High School.

Complete training and materials are provided. Volunteers are needed to help prepare the young people of Mississippi for tomorrow's workforce. To be part of the excitement at Junior Achievement, call 601-948-3997 or 1-800-844-1208, toll-free.

Mississippi Coastal cleanup set for Sept. 16

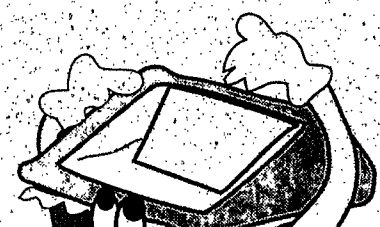

Volunteers in Hancock, Harrison and Jackson counties are needed for the 12th annual Mississippi Coastal Cleanup to be held 8 a.m. - 11 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 16.

Participants may sign up as individuals, families, school groups or civic organizations. To volunteer call 467-9048 in Hancock County; 374-5022 ext. 6062 in Harrison County; 990-9802 in Jackson County; 990-1398 in Ocean Springs; 875-9057 for the Barrier Islands; and 475-7047 for the Grand Bay National Estuarine Research Reserve.

Zone captains will supply volunteers with trash bags, data cards, pencils, plastic gloves and a Coastal Cleanup insulated cooler provided by Chevron Pascagoula Refinery.

Following the cleanup, participants may show the insulated cooler as a pass for a complimentary lunch at Gulfport's Outback Steakhouse.

Volunteers will pick up marine debris at more than 30 designated coastal areas (zones) in all three counties and the barrier islands. Individuals or groups interested in serving as a zone captain for a coastal area not included on the following list should call the sign-up number in their county (listed above). Designated cleanup areas are as follows:

Hancock County - Moss Point; Griffin Point, downtown waterfront; Pascagoula: the Point boat launch at the west end of Beach Boulevard, River Park, Yacht Club Drive boat launch area, Spanish Fort boat launch, Lions Club boat launch, Round Island, Sand Island, and Jackson County rivers.

Harrison County - Pass Christian Harbor, Long Beach Harbor, Gulfport Harbor, Biloxi Back Bay and Keegan Bayou, Deer Island, and U.S. 90 beach areas at Courthouse Road, the Coast Coliseum, and Biloxi Lighthouse.

Jackson County - Moss Point; Griffin Point, downtown waterfront; Pascagoula: the Point boat launch at the west end of Beach Boulevard, River Park, Yacht Club Drive boat launch area, Spanish Fort boat launch, Lions Club boat launch, Round Island, Sand Island, and Jackson County rivers.

Ocean Springs - Belle Fontaine Beach, Gulf Park Estates public pier, Fort Bayou Estates Boat Launch, Ocean Springs Front Beach and East Beach, and Graveline Bayou pier and boat launch.

Barrier Islands - Horn,

Petit Bois, East and West Ship Islands.

Grand Bay National Estuarine Research Reserve, Mississippi's Coastal Cleanup is affiliated with the International Coastal Cleanup - the world's largest cleanup effort on behalf of the marine environment.

In 1999, Mississippi's Coastal Cleanup drew more than 2,600 volunteers who collected about 2,500 bags of trash.
